DETAILED ACTION

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the Specification:

On page 1, the phrase "Filed Apr. 23, 2002" has been replaced with "filed April 23, 2002, now U.S. Patent No. 6,665,041".

End of examiner's amendment.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-9 and 12-18 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Due to the agreement of the applicant with the examiner's interpretation of the claim language [see pp. 7-8 of the response, pp. 3-4 of the office action of 30 November 2006], the previous rejections under 35 USC 112, 2nd paragraph are overcome.

Art Unit: 2871

The prior art does not disclose the LCD of claim 1, in particular with vertically aligned liquid crystal molecules, wherein every two pixel electrodes are paired as a pixel electrode group, the groups separated by a groove, and the pixel electrodes of each pixel electrode group are separated by a protrusion. Claim 1 is therefore allowed, as are its dependent claims 2-9. (Note that in Kishimoto, relied upon previously, the pixel electrodes have a protrusion therebetween, but they are not "separated" by the protrusion, in the sense of being set apart or made distinct by the protrusion; compare to the applicants' Fig. 10A in which the protrusions "separate" the pixel electrodes.)

The prior art does not disclose the LCD of claim 13, in particular the additional limitation that the protrusion is made of silicon dioxide. Claim 13 is therefore allowed, as are its dependent claims 12, 14, and 16-18.

The prior art does not disclose the LCD of claim 15, in particular the additional limitation that the groove has a first and second inclinations, which oppose each other. Claim 15 is therefore allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
